Did You Know...?

The Los Alamos Community Winds is always looking for new members. Did you play an instrument in high school? In college? If you did, LACW is your chance to put your talents to good use. The Los Alamos Community Winds is open to all-comers. The only requirement is that you know how to play an instrument. We are also always looking for volunteers to help with various projects and "behind the scenes" activities. If you have Tuesday evenings free, then the LACW is for you. Why not check us out and join in the fun and music? We rehearse on Tuesday evening from 7:00 – 9:00 p.m. at Los Alamos High School. For further information, please visit our website at: <http://www.lacw.org> or email us at info@lacw.org

About Our Director

Ted Vives is now in his 24th season as musical and artistic director for the Award-Winning Los Alamos Community Winds.

Vives began music studies at the age of 4, taking piano and theory lessons from Edgar and Dorothy Glyde. His musical interests changed to trombone performance and composition upon entering the public school system. Vives holds bachelor's degrees in both composition and music education from Florida State University where he studied with John Boda, Roy Johnson, and Charles Carter and conducting with James Croft. He also holds a Masters of Music in Composition and a Ph.D. in Music Education from the University of Florida where he studied composition with Budd Udell and John D. White and conducting with David Waybright. He has taught in the public schools in Florida and has served as a clinician at band and music camps in many states.

Dr. Vives holds memberships in Kappa Kappa Psi, Tau Beta Sigma, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Phi Kappa Phi, Music Educators National Conference, Music Teachers National Association, National Band Association, and the Conductor's Guild. He resides in Los Alamos, New Mexico with his wife Paula, son Alex, and daughter Abby.

What is a Prism Concert?

Much like a prism breaks light into its component parts, tonight's prism concert showcases the music and musicians of Los Alamos and White Rock in all their varied components. For a little more than an hour, you will be literally surrounded by the holiday music performed by members of our community. Tonight's performance allows you to see and hear not only the ensemble as a whole, but also a wide variety of soloists and small ensembles. As our concert progresses, you will be treated to a seamless parade of musical colors all connected in the celebration of the Holiday Season.

The prism concert concept was introduced in this country at the Eastman School of Music in 1975. The development of Eastman's inaugural prism concert is commonly attributed to Donald Hunsberger and Gustav Meier, conductors of the wind ensemble and orchestra, respectively. The basic idea is that different styles of music performed by different types and sizes of ensembles are presented, uninterrupted by applause or staging adjustments, using the entire venue rather than just the stage.

It is the hope of all the musicians here this evening that your musical experience will be both entertaining and rewarding and that our performance will not only fill you with the holiday spirit, but do so in a unique and satisfying way that you will want to return to again!
